Thanks for this set first and foremost go to Tom Filsinger for creating COTG, for with out that you would not be reading this book. To Kevin Knipe for his brilliant art work once again and for being the perfectionist that he is. To the online crew, Q, Mike, Kevin W., EEK, Eric M., MVZ (ICOF may be dead but the freaks are still alive), Brandon, Aaron C. and those that haven't been around in awhile. And to the memory of Jamie B. Wilson, a man who was always there to send a wrestler into my NAWC to spice things up. Everybody misses ya.

ter and later on his true father, Michael joined the Righteous, Azrael Caldarians new Order and trained with both his sister as well as new convert Shawn Priest a former member of the Wilson Army. Finally Michael was set to meet Keth Vale in a match that was set up by Azriel the Deceiver but before the match could happen Michael turned on the Deceiver and then Vale telling both that the Righteous would soon reclaim what was taken from them. Since that time Azrael Caldarian has returned to the ring though his wife Josephine remains with the Deceiver Azriel out of sight, no one has seen he since Michael turned on the false Azriel. Azrael has reconciled with Keth Vale though Michael still resents Keth. Michael's partner Shawn Priest is soon to follow him into the NAWC as soon as he is finished with his indoctrination into The Righteous and Rose Caldarian will follow when she has finished training.

Michael Caldarian

6'1" 233lbs.

Sicily, Italy

Righteous Driver – power slam into side driver.

Eyes of the Righteous – snake eyes into corner buckle.

Heaven's Hammer – running double fist hammer to chest.

Purity Driver – piledriver.

SIN BUSTER – Ace Crusher.

Michael Caldarian is a second generation wrestler and the son of Azrael Caldarian the recently returned leader of the Righteous. Michael has had a rough last year and a half starting with the apparent death of his father Azrael within the Monastery he has called home since arriving on Alaara. Then he began hating his father best friend Keth Vale because he felt he was trying to move in on his grieving mother. Third was a real shocker when a masked man bearing a striking resemblance to his father and bearing burns to his face appeared and though he spelt his name slightly different this one was aligned with his fathers greatest enemy, Xaphan and Sammael, and he had also gotten his mother to believe it was truly her husband reborn. Forth Michael finally gave in and joined his mother and this new Azriel though reluctantly all the while Azriel stoked the fires of hatred between Michael and Keth. Then unknown to anyone Michaels sister Rose, long since in a nunnery, sought out Michael with news that their father truly was alive, overjoyed at reuniting with his sis-

First I want to thank you for purchasing this set. Now I welcome you to Series 8 of the NAWC. This installment brings lots of updates for older characters as well as updates for two SE cards in Assassin X and the Hangman. We also get the official debut of Halfmoon II the son of legendary wrestler Sam Moon, the original Halfmoon. The last two are also newcomers one being another second generation star and the son of NAWC icon Azrael, his name is Michael Caldarian. The final newcomer is a protégé of Keth Vale and is a hardcore women's wrestler. So sit back and enjoy the Heroes of Alaara.

The Hangman

6'3" 282lbs.

Skarnheim, Alaara

Skar Buster – with opponent in ring and Hangman on apron Hangman delivers an Ace Crusher dropping himself to the floor while the opponent gets an added snap off the top rope.

HANG EM HIGH – Swinging choke lift into sit out power bomb.

CORAL FANG (Tag Finisher) – while opponent is locked in Camel clutch by Hangman, his partner comes in and gives a running knee to the opponents face.

Hangman recently left the employ of Mangus and his Cygnus Rising team and has now rejoined his GSF teammates. Ciber Naught and crew accepted him back with open arms and took his reconnaissance of Cygnus and Alquala plans and gave them to the Goldsboro Military for decoding. Still needing to wear his specially equipped mask due to a war time accident, Mangus and his tag team of Belroc and Sekada have sworn to remove the hood and make Hangman pay for his turn. Hangman told them to bring and has now begun teaming with Tera Naught, with the two taking the name of their group (GSF) as their team name. Hangman has also replaced his trusty bull rope with a chain like weapon and has told those scaly reptiles that he plans to Hang EM High whenever he gets the chance.

Halfmoon II

5'10" 196LBS.

Goldsboro, Alaara

BLUE OMEGA BOMB – Double under hook folding power bomb.

GOLD ALPHA DRIVER – spinning Fireman's Carry Driver.

Halfmoon II is the son of legendary Alaaran wrestler and political figure Sam Moon. Groomed and bred to one day step into his dad's boots and don his mask Halfmoon II has a lot of hype to live up to. He has been personally trained by his father since the age of twelve he has spent the last two years training in the NAWC's training grounds, Sanctuary for his eventually NAWC debut at the ripe old age of 17. Already with an ego the size of a star system, HMII believes in the hype and expects Ciber Naught to hand over the mantle of Goldsboro Champion once the next Contest of sits on their shoulder, twisting the hammerlock PENDULUM DRIVER (Tag Finisher) – Killswitch and partner swing opponent between them gaining height with each swing, and then with one last swing they completely swing him over onto his head.

The second student to graduate from the new Rancor school, Killswitch heads to the NAWC to join Sidon where the two look to join forces against Sidon's new found enemies the Vampire Nation. Taking the team name Rancor, Sidon and Killswitch get ready to battle Von Mahkrieg and NAWC vet Bloodstorm, who are better known as Crimson Fang. For now the other Vampire Nation members are staying out of the fight leaving it to the Vampire Bounty Hunter and his new mentor. Killswitch is a tag specialist and looks to use his Rancor Missile and Pendulum Driver tag team moves to neutralize the vampires. Killswitch specializes in head drop moves which are all the rave right now, though he does have his Sanity's Eclipse submission hold to wear down opponents. The new era of Rancor is upon the NAWC, will the Vampire Nation and others be able to hold them back?

Assassin X

6'4" 248lbs.

Goldsboro, Alaara

CONTRACT KILLING – Inverted Death Valley
Brain Buster.

The Sketchy past that was Assassin X has slowly been un-earthed and we have recently found out that Assassin X was part of a Special Forces unit commanded by Ciber Naught during the Alaaran Civil Wars. During that time AX was a highly decorated veteran and has been Ciber Naught right hand man ever since. Now in the NAWC that Ciber Naughts GSF Unit has finally been reunited with Hangman rejoining the unit, Assassin X has been given the chance to go for singles gold and to take out anyone Ciber Naught doesn't have time to take out himself. Assassin X has done very well to this point but an improved defense and slightly modified offense he hopes will win him some gold.

Killswitch

5'9" 219lbs.

Nicaragua

Rancor Missile (double team move) – he and partner perform a double missile dropkick. In singles matches Killswitch still does the move but with reduced effects.

Mind Eraser – pump handle Michinoku Driver II.
SANITY'S ECLIPSE – Killswitch locks up one arm in a hammer lock, and rolls through. One leg is tied up like a figure 4 leglock, Killswitch then Champions rolls around in a year and a half.

Whether or not he can take it remains to be seen but one thing is for sure, lots of people will be gunning for the youngster as he looks to make his name in the cruiserweight division.

Belroc

7'0" 369lbs.

Cygnus

Terror Face Claw – claw to face made popular by his teacher Dreadnaught.

Mad Splash – the massive Belroc climbs to the top rope and flies off with a devastating splash.

CYGNUS SPIKE – Oriental Spike.

SPIKED COMRADE DRIVER (Tag Finisher) – along with partner delivers a double belly to back head spike. Belroc also uses this as a singles finisher with reduced results.

Many thought that once Brinson Faust won the Contest of Champions last year and was moved to the main singles position on the Cygnus Rising Team, Belroc and Sekada would revolt after being put into tag duty, but instead the two have thrived and have even captured the NAWC Universal Tag Team and Alaaran Tag Team Titles. Though Sekada remains split between singles and tag action, Belroc has dedicated himself into the tag team and has become the specialist for the team. While he still uses his Cygnus Spike to get submission wins he and Sekada have added the Spiked Comrade Driver as a tag finisher. The duo named the move after their former teacher and mentor Dreadnaught who ironically died in the ring while fighting Sekada during the last class Dreadnaught taught on Cygnus. Belroc has even begun taking to the top rope and delivering three hundred and sixty nine pound splash that has been dubbed the mad splash due to most people believing Belroc is mad for trying the move so often.

Ciber Naught

6'6" 335lbs.

Goldsboro, Alaara

Ciberline – jumping clothesline.

Ciber Bomb – Jackknife Power Bomb.

Terminal Destruction – full nelson suplex with bridge.

ATOMIC WASTELAND – second rope German Suplex and roll up.

The undisputed leader of the GSF, Ciber has many enemies notably Cygnus Rising and Sam Moon and his Alien Alliance Team. A former Sergeant in the Goldsboro military he led an elite Special Forces unit which he now commands in the NAWC. Still a brawler and power wrestler Ciber has a lot to prove to himself in the coming months. First he lost the Contest of Champions to Brinson Faust of Aquala this past year and for the first time in a decade Goldsboro didn't lead the Alaaran Government since the end of the Civil War. Add to that Sam Moon has finally sent his son Halfmoon II as well as Manta after Ciber Naughts spot as the Goldsboro Champion for the next Contest of Champions and Ciber has a lot on his plate. He is hoping that with Assassin X and Hangmans progression in the ring and his own new finisher he can hold off the outside forces and regain everything he believes he has lost.

Andromeda “Romy” Ravhin

5'3" 138lbs.

New Babylon, Moon Base Alpha

Heavy Metal Cross-line– with chain in hands

Romy crosses arms and delivers a devastating running cross arm chain clothesline.

Diving Star – top rope flying head butt.

DIE DEAD ENOUGH – reverse Kryptonite Krunch.

INTO THE BLACK – Anaconda Vice.

Romy was discovered by Keth Vale while Keth was back home on Earth dealing with his new HoloVid business. Romy approached Keth and asked him if he would train her as she had been a fan of his many styles for years. After much deliberating and once Keth decided to take on another student Keth decided to take on Romy as well. Keth describes her as a charismatic, crazy daredevil who isn't afraid of anything and who wants to get closer to Hell every time she wrestles...by taking some crazy bumps or bleeding until she can't see the ring. The first Keth deemed ready for the NAWC, Romy embarks on an NAWC career with a zeal that the ladies division needs. Has no real enemies as of yet Romy adds to a budding ladies division.
