

Assassin X

Height: 6'4" Weight: 255lbs
Home: Parts Unknown

Special Moves – Assassin Drop – power bomb
Tomikaze – reverse underhook DDT

Finisher - CONTRACT KILLING – Inverted Death Valley Brainbuster

Bio – Assassin X's background is very sketchy. His actual home is unknown but he has been conducting business off of Alaara for years. It is rumored that he truly is an assassin but those rumors have not been backed up with any evidence. What is known is that he and his associates run a bounty hunters guild and have worked for Ciber Naught in the past. Now Assassin X along with Hangman have been hired by Ciber Naught to help him get rid of current enemies within the NAWC. A-X has a high sense of honor and prefers to fight his contracts straight up, though he doesn't mind a sneak attack to get his/ or her attention. He also will only take one contract at a time and won't move on till the terms of the contract is complete. A-X has a martial arts background and prefers to completely break his opponent down during his matches before he ends the match. A-X has also put his services up to the highest bidder, and even though he currently has a job he's always looking for his next payday.

HANGMAN

Height: 6'3" Weight: 275lbs
Home: Parts Unknown

Finisher – SWINGING FROM THE GALLOWS – swinging chokelift into sit out power bomb.

Bio – From the ever popular Parts Unknown. And when asked where he's from he just pulls the noose on his ever present rope tight and walks away. He works for the same guild as Assassin X and was brought in to help A-X with Ciber Naughts enemies. Not much of a talker due to the special hood he wears that helps him filter the air. He must wear the mask do to overexposure to an unknown chemical that has poisoned his lungs. The filter in the mask helps him adjust to the air that could be lethal to him if it was removed. Hangman always carries a rope with him to the ring and has a tendency to hang his opponent with it getting him dq'd. He is a power wrestler with deceptive agility for a big man.

Brinson Faust

6'5" 323LBS

Alaara

DEMON SQUEEZE (full nelson and reverse bear hug)

FOUR ARMED DRIVER (with opponents legs tucked under upper arms like a boston crab Brinson uses lower arms to double underhook opponents arms, he then drops opponent with a pedigree)

Not much has been revealed of his background but it is rumored that he comes from the same hidden kingdom as Chouuju on Alaara. They have yet to interact with each other and it is currently unknown if they are friendly or enemies. Currently Faust has begun teaming with Hangman and joined Belroc's Cygnus Rizing Team.

Sammael The Morning Star (Hell's Technician)

6'1" 235lbs.

Finishers – Mourning Star (STF/Regal Stretch)

Lightbringer (450 Splash)

Sammael is a Heavy Metal loving sort guy who was overly influenced by the Misfits and Glenn Danzig... while not being the strongest man out there, Sammael compensates great agility and a high impact wrestling style... Sammael fears nothing and no one and will do anything to get over... including challenging TWF legend Kindred.

Sammael is in his late twenties... he became interested in wrestling early on in life and, eventually became obsessed with it. His training was essential getting his ass kicked in small flea markets all over earth. He picked up a great deal of experience and eventually decided to make a go of it on his own. That road led to the TWF and a feud with the legendary Kindred. Dubbed Hell's Technician, and the rest is history.

Salem

6'1" 120lbs

Dallas, Texas

Lightbringer-450 Splash off the top rope

Mourning Star-Regal Stretch

Witching Hour-Top Rope Juvi driver

Distractor 7

Jake "Heartthrob" Storm

Homeland: Sol City, Pa

Height: 6'1" Weight: 240 lbs

Storm Hammer-Flying Double Axe-handle

Storm Cutter-Diamond Cutter Type Maneuver

Heartbreaker-Spinning Heel kick

HEARTSTOPPER-Double Spinning Heart Punch

HEART OF THE STORM-Combination of the Haerstopper and Storm Cutter-works on even rolls-odd roll-is just Heartstopper (+2)

Born in Sol City, Pennsylvania Jake has wrestling in his blood. He is a Third Generation superstar with both his Father and Grandfather being Top Stars. Looking to follow in their footsteps, he was all-state wrestling champion his senior year at Sol City high school and won a wrestling scholarship from a prestigious university. He was all-American his senior college year and was poised to become the next big name in wrestling. His father, having seen the darker side of Professional wrestling cautioned against it and suggested he go for Olympic gold, but Jake would have none of that! He signed with a promoter for a fledgling wrestling organization called the S.W.S(Supreme Wrestling Syndicate). Jake found out within a month of his signing of the contract that the emphasis was on "syndicate"-The whole company was a just a front for mob money laundering and was shut down before Jake had a chance to debut! Also, due to the contract he signed, he could not compete legally in any other organization-his career was over before it even had a chance to begin. Determined not to let this defeat him, Jake continued training with his father and grandfather, honing the skills he hoped to some day showcase for the world. In the meantime, he took a job at a modeling agency, where his good looks an charm soon earned him the nickname "Heartthrob". After a few years, the contract that had him bound expired and Jake was free to pursue his dream. After competing in a number of underground fighting circuits, he now is pursuing his career in the Pro Wrestling Indy Circuit!